

HAMLEY STEAKHOUSE

Since 1883, the Hamley name has been synonymous with quality. Our mission is to carry on this proud tradition by providing excellent food and outstanding service.

The concept of Hamley Steakhouse took root in early 2006 and soon became a reality, finding its home in a prominent and historical location next to the Hamley Western Store. A rich and unique list of businesses occupied this site dating back to the Umatilla County Courthouse circa 1869.

During construction every detail was attended to in bringing to life an authentic turn-of-the-century look and feel. Dedicated local contractors and craftsmen worked tirelessly to complete the construction in an amazing nine months, some calling it a difficult yet successful "birth." Hamley Steakhouse opened to rave reviews in June 2007.

Located in the heart of downtown Pendleton, home to the historic Pendleton Round-Up, Hamley Steakhouse is a restaurant for the ages. Every square foot has been meticulously designed to embody the American Old West.

Visitors will be taken back in time as they experience the late eighteenth-century design and top-of-the-line craftsmanship. Hamley Steakhouse is truly an experience you'll never forget! Some of the highlights are:

- Original turn of the century bar.
- A majestic show kitchen capped with a hand built and custom forged Barrel "H" copper hood
- An original bank wall from the era of Billy the Kid
- Authentic tin ceilings encased in custom designed coffered woodwork
- A custom built, native stone stairway leading down to the impressive Hamley Wine Cellar with shelving built from original oak barrel staves and filled with Hamley Specialty Wine
- Custom quarter sawn oak woodwork
- Countless authentic Old West artifacts throughout

Please make yourself at home and explore our restaurant; if you have any questions, please ask. If you have any suggestions, please tell us. We hope you enjoy your visit!

HAMLEY & CO.

The Hamley & Co. history began in Cornwall, England, where the trade of saddle and leather craftsmanship was passed down from generation to generation. The Hamley tradition found its way to America and in 1883, J.J. and Henry Hamley established Hamley & Co. In 1905, Hamley & Co. found a permanent home in Pendleton, Oregon and set up shop in the same building that exists today. The business soon developed a reputation throughout the West as the maker of the finest saddles a man could ride. J.J. Hamley was instrumental in organizing the first Pendleton Round-Up and served as a director for many years. Over the years, Hamley & Co. has provided hundreds of Round-Up trophy saddles and 58 World Champions have ridden Hamley saddles.

After watching Hamley & Co. struggle for years, Blair Woodfield and his business partner became interested in the business. Both men were raised on cattle ranches and were very familiar with Hamley cowboy gear. Growing up, visiting the Hamley store was considered a special event and both were aware of the quality and tradition the Hamley name represented. They, along with countless patrons, mourned the decline of the Hamley & Co. business. They acquired the building and trademark rights, finally allowing Hamley & Co. to once again operate as in days gone by. With pride, they began the resurrection of this great Western icon.

The new owners oversaw the building's dramatic renovation that brought to life aspects of Hamley & Co. from 1905, with pieces of the 1950 remodel and finishing touches of today. After six months of construction, the company reopened in September 2005, one week before the Pendleton Round-Up and just in time to celebrate the first century of Hamley & Co. in Pendleton, Oregon.
